Technical Guidance (A.5)

3. Supplementary Material Guidance

Scope of Supplementary Data

Supplementary material includes supplementary datasets, raw code, large data tables, video recordings, audio clips, or extended experimental protocols that directly support the paper but exceed normal page limits.

Submission Standards

- Format: Combine text, tables, and extra figures into a single PDF document labeled `Supplementary_Material.pdf` where possible.
- Datasets & Code: Raw spreadsheet data (CSV, XLSX) or analytical scripts (Python, R, MATLAB) should be uploaded as separate files with descriptive labels.
- Citation in Main Text: All supplementary figures and tables must be explicitly cited in the main manuscript text (e.g., see Supplementary Figure S1, Supplementary Table S2).
